FIFTY-SIX MEN ORDERED FROM MASON COUNTY

Another increment of drafted men will leave here on July 18 to begin their training at Fort Thomas.

The Exemption Board for Mason county late Tuesday received a telegram from the state adjutant to enslave fifty-six men for Fort Thomas on July 18—two weeks from tomorrow.

This is the first call in the big July draft which will take more than one hundred men from Mason county to training camps.

The men going to Fort Thomas are to fill up increments of soldiers who will soon be sent to Eastern camps for a short intensive training before going over to France in which country they all receive their last touches of training. These men going to Fort Thomas will not be held for a long time in training camps in this country but will soon have the opportunity of seeing foreign lands.

Class One as it was before the recent registration of youths just becoming twenty-one in the past years, it is said, is to be practically exhausted by this latest call and those men who were only recently registered will probably be compelled to take their places in the ranks under any future calls.

This call will not probably include those men who the first of the week were placed in Class One from deferred classes but those men will in all probability come in any calls that may follow and it is expected that at least one more call will be made upon Mason county during the latter part of this month.

BANK OF MAYSVILLE HAS GOOD STATEMENT

In another part of this issue appears the statement of the condition of the Bank of Maysville at the close of business on June 25 and in this statement a splendid showing is made by this old reliable institution. The statement makes an interesting reading and is worth the attention of all. It will be noticed that the total resources of the institution are now $1,098,000.22 while the total amount of deposits are $936,597.20.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR MORROW SPEECH

Prominent Republican Orator Will Deliver Address at Chautauqua on July 4th—Big Speech at Ruggles in the Afternoon.

All arrangements are now complete for the two addresses of Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, prominent young Republican, in this section on the Fourth of July. Arriving here tomorrow morning he will be met by a committee of prominent local Republicans who will entertain him during the day.

He will motor to Ruggles Camp Grounds with Col. J. Barbour Russell and Mr. Clarence Mathews where the chief address of the day will be made to the Old Settlers who annually gather there and the large number of people from all over this section who always spend the Fourth of July at Ruggles. It is expected that quite a number of Maysville people will go to Ruggles for the day in order to hear Mr. Morrow's chief address.

In the afternoon he will return to Maysville and following the regular Chautauqua program at Beechwood Park tomorrow evening he will make a patriotic address under the auspices of the Council of National Defense. This address will be given about 9 o'clock and at that hour the gates to Beechwood Park will be thrown wide open and the entire public will be invited to hear this address free of charge. It will be necessary for the Chautauqua people to continue their regular charges at the gate for the regular program but no charge will be made to hear Mr. Morrow.

It is expected that there will be a great audience to hear one of Kentucky's most prominent men and one of her best orators on such an important subject.

The local committee of the Old Settlers Committee is to be congratulated upon giving the people of this section this opportunity to hear such a speaker on such a subject just at this time.

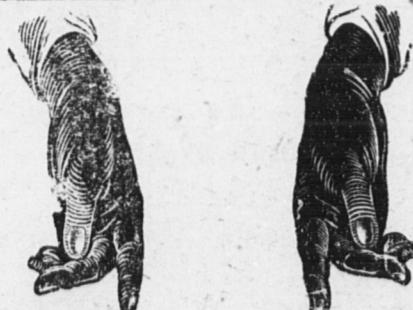

Miss Mabel Todd of Flemingsburg is attending the Chautauqua and visiting Mr. F. E. Tolle and family and Mr. C. G. Gault and family of Forest avenue.

AMERICANS GO THROUGH ENEMY LINES IN RUSH

In Fierce Attack on German Position at Hill 204 Americans Show Again Their Ability as Fighters.

With the American Forces on the Marne, July 2—An entire German regiment has been virtually annihilated in the fighting west of Hill 204, according to official information.

The attack by the Americans on the Vaux positions was so terrible that they swept right through the enemy lines and had their object been to continue the advance they could have done so with the greatest ease, as virtually every thing before them had been cleared. So great was the enthusiasm of the men, the officers in some cases had to look sharp to keep them from going beyond the set objectives.

It is not improbable that the Germans are planning another counter attack for the coming dark hours, but preparations have been made to meet them.

A vast quantity of material, considering the size of the operation, is being taken to the rear, but probably will not be tabulated for several days.

In the fighting west of Vaux the Americans stormed several enemy nests and killed or captured the occupants; then turned the guns the other way, using them effectively against the enemy rear areas.

The Americans penetrated the enemy's lines to a depth of about a kilometer and a half on a total front of about four kilometers. All day today the troops in the front line have been subjected to a heavy shell fire. They had some shelter in one patch of woods which they occupied, but those who did not enter the wood had only the protection which they had provided themselves with their entrenching tools or by taking cover in shell holes. From one crater slightly in advance of the line, but on it, from a technical point of view, American soldiers this afternoon let their comrades know where they were when one of their party leaned over the line of the crater and waved his helmet.

The prisoners taken in the German counter attack say that they marched for three hours as fast as they could when word reached the commander of an enemy battalion in the rear of Vaux, which town is on the right of the American attack. Observers reported this morning that the Germans were apparently hurrying to bring up reinforcements behind their lines.

Counter Attack Repulsed

With the American Forces on the Marne Front, July 2—A counter attack made by the Germans today against the new positions won the west of Chateau Thierry was completely broken up. The Americans did not give up a foot of ground which they had captured.

There was hot fighting today in front of hill 204, which is in the hands of the Germans. At 5 o'clock this evening the American artillery was engaged in heavily shelling the position.

Reports from the advanced front brought back through a heavy enemy barrage confirmed the earlier statements that the Americans have reached their every objective and are holding every point. The total number of Germans captured by the Americans is now estimated to be about 500, including seven officers.

The German counter attack which was fiercely conducted, was launched against the American positions at 3 o'clock this morning. It resulted in the Americans further increasing their number of prisoners. Virtually the remainder of the enemy attacking force was annihilated.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY PICNIC

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Christian Church will have its regular program with a picnic supper from 5 to 7 this evening at the Chautauqua grounds. The program feature with the general topic, "The Disciples of Christ in India" will be given first. Each member of the society is expected to furnish a part of the provisions for supper which will be served after 6 o'clock so that the husbands may be present.

STREET AT NEW DEPOT WILL BE PAVED AT ONCE

Lower Street and Space About New C. & O. Depot Will Be Paved at Once With Concrete.

City officials were advised yesterday that the C. & O. railroad officials had finally decided upon paving Lower street and the space of ground about the new depot at this place instead of macadamizing it as was at first undertaken. The street and space about the depot will be paved with concrete instead of brick or asphalt, however.

It will be remembered that several weeks ago the railroad authorities began work at macadamizing this space of ground and street and that the Chamber of Commerce, city officials and citizens living in the immediate neighborhood of the depot asked the railroad officials to stop work on this street until they had heard from Maysville. Shortly after work was stopped the local people, united in urging upon the railroad officials that they pave the street and space. The matter was taken up thoroughly and gone into by the railroad people and the local interests through a joint committee from the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce. It was then taken under advisement by the railroad authorities and just what they would do with the matter never became definitely known until yesterday when the word was brought to Maysville that it had been definitely decided to pave the street and space with concrete and that the contract had already been let and work would begin in a very short time.

This will be very good news to the people of Maysville who were very much interested in having this street and space paved instead of left macadamized to become muddy and spoil the appearance of our new depot. From reports received by officials yesterday it is taken that work will be begun on the paving of the street at once so that it will be completed by the time the new depot is ready for its formal opening which will probably be about the first of August. Contractors say that a concrete street can be laid in a much shorter time than either brick or asphalt.

COUNTY NOW FURNISHES MARRIAGE CERTIFICATES

In the past all persons desiring marriage certificates when they were married in this state were required to pay extra for these certificates but under the new marriage license law passed by the Kentucky General Assembly, marriage certificates are furnished with the marriage license. County Clerk James Owens has just opened a new marriage bond book and attached to every marriage license blank is a beautifully printed certificate to be filled out and presented to the bride by the minister or officer performing the ceremony.

NEW ICE CREAM PLANT NOW OPERATING

In this issue of the Public Ledger the F. H. Traxel Company announces the transfer of all of their packed ice cream business to the new plant of the Traxel-Glascock Company in West Third street. While all home deliveries of ice cream will be made from the new plant, the Traxel Company will continue to sell ice cream unpacked at their Second street store.

Miss Kate Schatzmann of Charleston, W. Va., is visiting her sister, Mrs. William M. Daugherty of East Fourth street.

State Fire Marshal Does Not Prosecute Case Against Local Man When He Agrees to Remove Condemned Property.

Upon motion of the prosecution the case against James P. Redmond charged with failure to comply with the orders of the State Fire Marshal's office, which was set for trial before County Judge H. P. Purnell in County Court yesterday, was dismissed.

It will be remembered that several months ago the railroad authorities began work at macadamizing this space of ground and street and that the Chamber of Commerce, city officials and citizens living in the immediate neighborhood of the depot asked the railroad officials to stop work on this street until they had heard from Maysville. Shortly after work was stopped the local people, united in urging upon the railroad officials that they pave the street and space. WHEN WAR WILL END

How long will the war last is a question that comes to us a dozen times a day. Nobody can tell, but we think a fairly good answer to the question is that it will last till we get 5,000,000 men in the field. That will end the war and nothing else will do it. That answer is full of hope for we have the men and resources to send them there, and we have this support of the hope in the fact that the government is endeavoring to raise such a big army. It may take a year or two, but the effort is to be persistent. The government knows the peril and, however, slow it may seem in meeting it, it is constantly employed in massing the great army. It is a question of force, not strategy or diplomacy, and 5,000,000 men is the size of the force needed. It is the only course to pursue, for it will not only save our cause but thousands of precious lives. When will the war end? When we get 5,000,000 men at the front.

TAX COMMISSIONERS

The first state meeting of the county tax commission has begun sessions in Frankfort. This will be an important meeting, since its membership will embrace those officers on whom will fall the duty of making assessments of Kentucky property for taxation. Rules will be laid down to the individual members as to the proper method of arriving at values, and the proper way of making the assessment. Great good is expected to be accomplished. Under the old law there was no uniformity of assessment among the various counties of the state, and the inequalities were rarely rectified by the state board of supervisors.

The new revenue law passed at a special session in 1917 was intended to remedy many of these inequalities. The short test of it already made has justified its wisdom. When it becomes thoroughly well understood and observed, Kentucky will have its taxation plan upon one of the most modern methods.

PREVENTING FIRES

"Preventable fire is more than a private misfortune—it is a public dereliction," was quoted from President Wilson at the fire prevention meeting. Well, why not regard it as a public dereliction? Why not punish those who make the people suffer by their neglect? Whoever by his neglect causes damage to other people is made responsible for those damages. But it seems in the case of fires an exception is made. A man may carelessly let his house burn down and no questions are asked. Why not punish this neglect? There is nothing that would more effectively prevent fires. Why not find out if a fire was preventable and then arrest the person who might have prevented it? We have insisted upon this for years, and the only answer we get is buying another hose reel or talk about that water pressure. It looks to us that the fire prevention people don't want to prevent fires.

REVENUE AND ECONOMY

There is a strong disposition among our people not to discuss the extravagance of government, for might seem to be laying obstacles in the way of collecting revenue, either by taxation or bonds. There is not a decent American who would think of that. There are $200,000,000,000 of wealth in this country and we have not spent a tenth of it yet. Some day we may have to spend it all and then some, and that the people will ready for. So there is no disposition on the part of the people to do a thing that will keep the government from getting all the money it wants. Associated with this idea is one that favors the government's taking great care of its contracts and not allowing a single profiteer to poke his hand into the national treasury.

SOLDIERS ARE PLEASED WITH TREATMENT HERE

Fighting Men En Route Over There Have Fond Remembrance of Treatment in Maysville.

That our soldier boys appreciate good treatment is attested by the several letters being received by local women who some time ago met a troop train passing through the city while it was laying at the local station and gave the soldiers cigarettes, fruit and a good time all the while their train was standing here.

Several of the women gave the soldiers their addresses and asked that they write them. The soldiers assured the women that as soon as they were located and knew their addresses they would write them so that the women might occasionally drop them a note of encouragement.

Yesterday some of these women received letters from the soldiers and the following paragraphs are taken from the letters to show the great appreciation of these young men for the splendid treatment they received while here.

One of the officers said in part:

"Kentucky—Maysville—and a very fond remembrance of both. Our men were very nearly 'spoiled' after we left you people at the station—the good time was all too short. A good warm handshake, a slap on the back, a word of cheer and a few smiles give us cheer to carry us on. I am sure that the fond remembrances of that night will go across with us."

Another member of the company said:

"To do unto others is a very good thing in the way in which it was formerly used but when you do as the good people of Maysville did it takes an entirely different way in which to explain itself.

"In our whole trip from Ft. Thomas to this camp your town was the only one which went to any trouble at all and, as one of the boys said, 'that was typical Kentucky hospitality.' We sure have some way by which to remember Maysville, Kentucky."

These expressions from the soldier boys who were given 'just a little lift' on their way to the coast are worth many times the cost of the little trouble the women of Maysville were put to in preparing for them. The women are very enthusiastic and will continue the good work as often as possible.

MISS LLOYD WILL ADDRESS WOMEN

Bourbon County Women Will Be Urged to Support Plan to Supply Vocational Training School for Girls.

A mass meeting of the women of Bourbon county will be addressed at Paris today by Miss Alice Lloyd on the Vocational Training School for Delinquent Girls to be established by joint action of the State and Federal Government.

The Government has appropriated $30,000 on condition that the State raise an equal amount. Louisville has raised $20,000 and the remaining $10,000 is being raised in the state at large.

Mason county is raising its quota by voting precincts. Orangeburg, Dover, Plowton, Minerva and East Maysville have paid their apportionments. The Chairman of the Ninth District and the State Chairman in the campaign for raising this fund, both of whom live in Maysville, will be glad to announce Mason county's quota raised as an example to other counties and districts.

SUGAR ORDER CAUSES MUCH INCONVENIENCE

The new order of the Food Administration just going into effect that no sugar can be purchased from jobbers or wholesalers unless a permit has been secured from the State Food Administration and the order that all large users of sugar must file a schedule with the County Food Administrator to be forwarded to the State Administrator has caused considerable inconvenience in Maysville and Mason county but these are times when inconveniences must be expected and the dealers says they will soon become adjusted to the condition of things.

INTERNAL REVENUE

TAXATION IS HEAVY

Millions More Than Was Estimated and Mostly Paid With Patriotic Promptness.

Washington, July 2—Internal revenue collections for the fiscal year which ended June 30 totaled $3,672,000,000 compared with $3,000,000,000 the year before and with $3,400,000,000 which it was estimated the war revenue measures passed by Congress last fall would yield.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper, in announcing these figures, estimated that the cost to the Government of making the collection was $12,000,000, and disclosed that the bureau force of 4,000 employees had been doubled during the year.

"National patriotism and solidarity engendered by the war has contributed largely to our success," said the Commissioner's statement. "The way in which taxpayers have generally assisted and co-operated has been a constant source of inspiration. I believe the majority of honest taxpayers in this country now understand and appreciate more than ever the methods and objectives of the Internal Revenue Bureau, and will be most effective in assisting us in our campaign for delinquent taxpayers, as well as those who have filed defective returns. It is our purpose to equalize the tax burden from every person and industry the full amount of tax that is due the Government and not one cent more, and, on the other hand, to return any excessive taxes that may have been collected.

"Our efforts could not have been successful without the co-operation of a very efficient group of assistants within our organization and of a most loyal personnel. They have rendered a real war service to their country."

BIG FOURTH OF JULY PROGRAM

"Mother of Liberty" which has been secured for showing at the Gem Theater on the Fourth of July, is unique, not only in the subject it depicts, but also in the ensemble of big artists who were recruited for its making. Both the legitimate stage and the ranks of film favorites were secured in a quest for those best able to portray the strong types that figure in the play. In consequence the cast is distinctively representative, including Barbara Catleton, Walter Miller, Beulah Poynter, Harry Spangler, William H. Tooker and W. S. Davis. There is a big array of lesser artists and in a number of scenes and ensembles of hundreds. There will be shown at 10 a. m., two matinees in the afternoon and two performances at night at the Washington Opera House.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT LOCAL HISTORY

Col. E. Polk Johnson Writes to the Louisville Times Something About the History of Maysville and Washington.

EDITOR'S NOTE — The following story from the pen of Colonel E. Polk Johnson, of Louisville, appearing in the Louisville Times, and written by him while on a recent visit to his Comrade Col. W. H. Robb of Helena Station will be very great local interest.

Maysville, Ky., June 26—"Happy is the land which has no history," was the utterance of an uncomfortable old curmudgeon whose name I am glad to have forgotten. Without history what would become of the historian, one would like to know? Here at the "Mouth of Limestone," which was the maiden name of Maysville, history had a beginning, and one with an imagination that is worth its salt can close his eyes today and hear the yell of the Indian and the rifle shot of Simon Kenton as he puts a final quietus upon that Indian's yell, subsequently gently lifting that savage's scalp after the fashion of the time. There were warriors in and about the Mouth of Limestone in those early days, and the story of their deeds in lonely valleys and on the summit of the heaven-piercing hills is full of the glamour and glory that sets the hot blood of a Kentuckian to quicker coursing through the veins. In later days, when another clash of arms filled the land, out from the confines of Mason county there rode to the armies of the South the splendid young descendants of the pioneers of Kentucky's early days, who wrote new pages of history bright with the story of their gallant deeds as they laughed and sang and bravely fought and some of them gallantly died, with Morgan and his men. Some of these yet linger to hold out a welcoming hand to the comrade of those days who crosses their threshold.

Maysville, now the county seat of Mason county, had not always that honor, as its elder sister, Washington, four miles away, was its senior by a year, having been established in 1786, while Maysville was born in 1787, each of them, as will be seen, antedating the entry of Kentucky into the Union of States June 1, 1792.

One may be forgiven, possibly, for the statement that Maysville is beginning to show that it is spring chicken in the matter of age, as good wine needs no bush, neither does Maysville need that one should go out of one's way to say nice things about it. Being one of the old regime, everyone who knows anything at all knows that it is nice; and upon the authority of one of Morgan's veterans down about Helena Station, the statement may be made that it is also painfully "dry" and becoming more so every day, as the old stock is being exhausted. Maysville has another and an important distinction, for here was born in 1821 Walter N. Haldeman, destined to play a greater part as a newspaper publisher than any other man in the South, and whose name, in connection with that of Mr. Watter-son, "Immortal Marse Henry", will never be forgotten when the list of great newspaper men is being written.

Here, too, came another whose name was later to blaze upon the pages of history when Ulysses S. Grant crossed over from his Ohio home to become a fellow-student with Mr. Haldeman in the classical school of Jacob W. Rand and William W. Richeson. But yesterday there was pointed out to me the building in which Mr. Richeson last taught, and, though Mr. Haldeman and Gen. Grant may not have attended school there, its venerable appearance leads one to believe that they might well have done so.

Interesting Old Veteran

Washington, as has been stated, is four miles from Maysville and one year older, and it looks its age honestly. It is an interesting old veteran among Kentucky's first villages. Here, on February 2, 1803, was born Albert Sidney Johnson, who fell at the head of the Confederate army at Shiloh April 6, 1862. There is yet standing the two-story frame house in which the great soldier first saw the light more than a hundred years ago, and notwithstanding its great age it is still occupied as a residence. With a few days' attention of a carpenter and a liberal application of a paint brush the old building would present a very liveable appearance.

It was in Washington that Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote a portion of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," that monumental fiction of all the ages, which inflamed the Northern mind, brought John Brown to Harper's Ferry to an ignominious death upon the scaffold and set the armies of the North and the South in furious battle array against each other. I have stood in the room in which she wrote the Kentucky chapters and imagined I could see that misguided, powerful-minded woman, embittered by half knowledge of the subject on which she wrote, and I wondered if, had she known that every page of its story would be stained with the blood of gallant young men of the North and of the South, she would have stayed her hand and destroyed all that she had written. Perhaps not. The New Englander is a thrifty and a gainful personage.

Across the street from the house where Gen. Johnson was born there still stands the old courthouse, marking the time when Washington was the county seat. Tradition has it that it was in front of this old house, now a private residence, that Uncle Tom was sold and a large rock at the front of the door is pointed out as that upon which he stood when being sold. This may be true; certainly there is no living witness to disprove it, and why speculate upon it.

Kentucky's First Bank

The citizens of Washington will show you an ancient building—in which, it is claimed, Kentucky's first bank was conducted. Efforts to learn the name of this bank and the date of its organization proved futile, but the building in which the bank did business is still standing and is the property and residence of a couple of the sort of colored people we used to see before the war, of whom so few remain. The ancient owner, with the courtesy of a gentleman of the older days, urged me to enter the ancient vault and to examine the heavy iron door which erstwhile shut away from those who would break through and steal the golden treasures of the bank and its customers. He brought out the ponderous key which had turned the lock and the thought came to me that it was second only in size to the key of the Bastille which Lafayette sent to Gen. Washington and which hangs on the wall at Mount Vernon today. The aged custodian showed me the working of the key in the lock, at the same time informing me that while thieves might break "one of these accommodation locks," no one could possibly break his lock after he had twice turned the key therein. I take it that he meant "combination locks." On leaving the building I slipped a coin into the hand of the old gentleman in ebony who at once crossed the room and gave it into the custody of his wife, who very much fear is one of these suffragettes."

In conclusion, it should be stated that Mason county is one of the wealthiest of the purely farming counties that lie along the Ohio River and that nowhere else in or out of Kentucky are there a gentler, kindlier or more hospitable people than its good citizens.

LOSS OF CRAFT PLACED AT $50,000

United States local Inspectors of Steam Vessels John K. Peyton and George W. Cameron are sending out their annual reports. It was a light year for inspections, due chiefly to the destruction of river craft caused by ice runs. Damage from this source, it is estimated, was approximately $500,000.

Garbage Collection and Disposal Plan
Suggested Should Have Hearty Support and Co-operation of All Our Residents.

Some time ago a plan for the systematic collection and disposal of garbage for Maysville was suggested and the plan seemed to be a very workable one and a solution to a problem which had faced the people of Maysville for some years and seemed to have no solution except through the expenditure of a large sum of money in providing a costly system.

This plan was that a local man would undertake to collect the garbage from the homes in Maysville at least twice each week for a nominal charge. This charge was fixed at twenty-five cents a month and a committee of business men anxious to get the city cleaned up and to get this problem of garbage collection and disposal settled, canvassed the city in an attempt to get enough people to agree to pay this small cost in order to make it profitable for the gentleman who proposed to undertake the collection.

Upon the present time there have been approximately 200 residents who have signed a pledge to support this scheme and it will take about 500 to make the plan profitable. Through the Maysville Chamber of Commerce much stress is to be laid on this campaign just as soon as the Chautauqua and the war activities now under way are disposed of successfully.

There are very few families in the city or Maysville who cannot afford to pay the small sum of twenty-five cents a month for this service and certainly there is not a family in the city that should be without the service if it is finally adopted as a city-wide scheme.

Probably next week the Chamber of Commerce will be able to give this important matter much of their attention and it is to be hoped that the people will rally to the plan and subscribe promptly so that all plans can be completed and ready for presentation to City Council at its next meeting or at a special meeting which may be called for this important business

CAPTAIN CLEPHANE SAYS HE'S READY

The government has notified the licensed pilots and captains as well as engineers on boats operating on the Ohio river to hold themselves in readiness for government calls and if it becomes necessary to call these men into the Federal service to operate boats for the government they will be expected to report at once. Captain William Clephane, the veteran master of the ferry Laurance, has received his notice and although getting along in years, he says he is ready whenever the nation needs him. Captain Clephane saw much active service during the war between the states and was on one steamer in the Tennessee river when it was taken by the Confederates.

GOOD LAW TO BE ENFORCED
RIGIDLY

The suggestion of Councilman Davis at the last meeting of City Council that all weeds in vacant lots over the city should be cut has caused instructions to be given by Mayor Russell and Chief of Police Harry A. Ort that the ordinance compelling this to be done by the property owners be rigidly enforced by the police. In some sections of the city vacant lots have been allowed to grow up with weeds until it has not only become a nuisance but dangerous. The police are now notifying all that the vacant lots must be cleaned up and arrests will be made unless the warnings of the police are heeded.

BACKACHE IS A WARNING

Maysville People Should Not Neglect
Their Kidneys.

BACKACHE is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To cure the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from weakened kidneys, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Read Maysville testimony.

Mrs. E. Spahr, E. Second and Walnut Sts., says: "I have never seen Doan's Kidney Pills fail to help anyone complaining of their kidneys. I have been greatly benefited by them myself. At times my back has ached and I have suffered from lameness through the small of my back. When I have been in that way, I have had a box or set of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Chastor's Drug Store. They have always quickly removed the trouble."

Mrs. Spahr is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. MONTAGUE LOVE IN MASTERLY DELINEA-
TION OF FAMOUS MAN

Appears as Belgium's World-Famous Cardinal in New York World-Picture Brady-Made, "The Cross Bearer."

Montague Love, the famous star of World-Picture Brady-Made is starred in the new World-Picture, "The Cross Bearer," which tells the remarkable story of Cardinal Mercier, the world-famous Belgian prelate, who has stood up so sturdily for the rights of his countrymen against the aggressions of the German oppressors.

The story is an extremely thrilling one. It tells of the love story of the Cardinal's ward and of the way that the Cardinal protects her. Excitement abounds in this picture, and it is a splendid view of the terrific hardships suffered by the Belgians and of the heroic efforts made by the Cardinal to alleviate their sufferings.

"The Cross Bearer" will be the super-attraction tonight at the Washington theater, and the management of this theater unhesitatingly recommends this masterly production to the patrons of this playhouse.

The lavish scale on which "The Cross Bearer" has been staged is one of the notable features connected with it. The interior of the Cathedral where the Cardinal repulses the German horde, is a huge structure especially erected for the purpose of filming this picture. Throughout the whole production expense has not been spared in making it the very best ever. This picture will also be seen at the Gem this afternoon.

OVER MILLION AMERICANS ARE NOW IN FRANCE

Country is Six Months Ahead of Its Program Says Secretary Baker in Letter Disclosing Great Efficiency in Troop Movement.

Washington, July 2 — American troops sent overseas numbered 1,019, 115 on July 1.

This was made known tonight by President Wilson, who gave to the public a letter from Secretary Baker disclosing a record of achievement which the president said "must cause universal satisfaction," and which "will give additional zest to our national celebration of the Fourth of July."

The first units—non-combatant—left American shores on May 8, 1917.
General Pershing followed twelve days later, and at the end of the month 1,718 men had started for the battlefields of France. June saw this number increased by 12,261 and thereafter khaki-colored "crusaders" from the western republic flowed overseas in a steady stream until upwards of 300,000 had departed when the great German thrust began last March.

President Wilson's determination to meet Germany's supreme effort with the utmost of America's available manpower to assist the desperately resisting French and British armies is sharply reflected in the movement of troops during the last three months.
The March sailings of 83,811 were increased in April to 117,212. May saw another 244,345 men embark and last month 276,372 were sent away, making a total for the three months of 637,929. This, Secretary Baker's letter said, put the troop movement six months ahead of the original program.

Maysville People Seem Anxious to Have a Chautauqua Next Year—
Dr. Frank Bohn Tells Something of the Mind of Germany.

Yesterday was another banner day at Maysville's big Chautauqua and the program for both the afternoon and evening was greatly enjoyed by the many chautauqua boosters who are taking in the whole week's program and by many who specially desired to hear the message of Dr. Frank Bohn in the evening about the mind of Germany.

The Crawford Adams Company, which gave the afternoon entertainment yesterday and again last evening pleased the audience with a short program, are entertainers of the highest class. Mr. Adams is an unusual musician in that he can do so many clever stunts with his violin which take so very well with the audience. Mr. Hudson is a pianist of unusual ability and Miss Breed is a first class woman humorist who carried her audience with her through many stories to hearty laughs.

Dr. Bohn's lecture in the evening was all that was expected of him and that was very much. He has only recently returned from Europe where he studied at first hand conditions in the German nation and of course his lecture was especially attractive to those who have studied the war closely while the mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters of the men who are now over there or who are preparing in training camps to go over there at an early date are always attracted by any message that might come about conditions in the country of our enemy.

The lecture showed much study on the part of the speaker and gave us some new ideas of the nation our country is now battling. The people who heard Dr. Bohn can consider themselves indeed very fortunate for having had this opportunity.

As a solution of the war question of the future Dr. Bohn suggested a League of Nations to be known as the United States of the World and to be patterned after our own government. He said this would figure in the peace terms of the present war.

Today is Shakespeare Day at the Chautauqua and while the afternoon is scheduled on the program as "Rest Afternoon" with no special program arranged for, there has been a program arranged and Miss Helen L. Barnes, National Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. will speak at the tent on "What Women Can Do To Help Win the War." This lecture is especially for women and it is to be hoped that there will be a large number of them to hear her.

This evening the famous Ben Greet Players will present Shakespeare's "The Comedy of Errors." The reputation of the Ben Greet Players is nation wide and the people of this community know them for they have appeared here before on Chautauqua programs. All lovers of Shakespeare will attend this performance.

Tomorrow—the Fourth of July—is a full day at the Chautauqua. In the afternoon Miss Alice Louise Shrode, child marvel, will give an entertainment and following her Senator Harold C. Kessinger, of Illinois, the youngest State Senator in the United States, will speak on the subject, "The America of Tomorrow."

Tomorrow night will be Children's night and the kiddies who have been under the direction of the Junior leaders each morning this week will give a great patriotic pageant known as "Our Allies".

Senator Kessinger will also speak in the evening and following him Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, will give a patriotic address. There will be no charge to Mr. Morrow's address and at 9 o'clock the gates of the park will be thrown open to the public so that all may hear the distinguished young Kentuckian.

The pulse of the people was felt last night as to whether or not they want the Chautauqua again next year.

Cards were passed in the audience and all were asked to pledge themselves for the number of season tickets they would purchase if they favored the return of the Chautauqua.

It is understood that the result was very gratifying but if the Chautauqua is returned there must be several more ticket yet pledged. All who desire the return of the entertainment should pledge themselves for as many tickets as they will use at once and if this is done the guarantor will sign the guarantee and another splendid program such as we are having this year will be assured.

This interest in oil developments of the mountains of our own state has reached Maysville and upon good authority it is reported that a company made up entirely of Maysville and Mason county people is being organized to take over a very promising tract of land in the very heart of the oil country of Kentucky.

It is more than likely that the project will materialize within the next few days and that the company will be organized and begin operations shortly thereafter.

The great oil boom throughout Bluegrass Kentucky has been a great help to the Bluegrass cities and it may be that the organization of this company may be the beginning of an oil boom for Maysville which will mean much to our city in a business way.
